Gorham Business Exchange Making Changes to Support Local Businesses

Kathy Corbett, Staff Writer

Unable to hold its community events during the pandemic and responding to the financial toll COVID-19 took on Gorham businesses, the Board of the Gorham Business Exchange (GBE) voted to eliminate both membership dues and the paid executive director position. The nonprofit organization will continue to advocate for local businesses and is planning to resume public activities later this summer.

"We are still here," said Ethan Johnson, GBE board president and account executive for Chalmers Insurance Group. "But the pandemic leveled us. We did not feel right asking for dues from our hard-hit businesses, and state guidelines forced us to cancel Marketplace in 2020 and again this year."

Nearly 30 years old, the GBE currently has just over 100 members who have been paying annual dues of $95 which primarily funded the executive director's salary. With the reorganization, Suzanne Phillips, who held that position, joined the volunteer board. "We are keeping the phone number and the e-mail blasts," she said, "and since we changed the dues policy I have had calls from ten potential members."

The Gorham community filled the USM gymnasium for the GBE Marketplace in March, 2019. The Gorham Business Exchange is planning to hold the event again in 2022.

Since the GBE was founded in 1994, others in Gorham such as Kevin Jensen, Gorham director of economic development, and the Gorham Village Alliance have joined in the effort to promote local commercial interests. "We see our role as advocating for all business owners. The GBE lobbied the state legislature not to tax federal COVID relief for businesses," Johnson said.

The GHS Senior Internship Experience is a Success

Eliza Kenigsberg, GHS Career Coordinator, Aspire Gorham

Seniors at Gorham High School (GHS) wrapped up their two-week internship on June 4. Over the course of their 36-hour experience, seniors worked closely with community businesses and organizations to gain valuable on-the-job perspective and skills in a career they may pursue after high school or college.

This year, seniors interned with a wide range of businesses, including: Skolfield Sports Performance, 320 Ink, IDEXX, Flowfold, Atlantic Dance Arts, Village Physical Therapy, and many more. Seniors explored career interests ranging from interior design to civil engineering to speech pathology to law enforcement.

At CWS Architects, Sydney Fox was tasked with designing a beach house. She was invited to draw a floor plan, select design concepts, themes for each room, and was given the opportunity to choose interior materials like flooring, paint, and lighting. Fox then underwent a rigorous feedback process with her internship hosts.

As an intern with a beekeeper, Katy Morin witnessed a queen bee hatch in her hands during a tour of hives throughout the state, which included a stop at the governor's mansion.

Richard Jiang learned the ins and outs of hotel management at Stone Ridge Lodge where he was immersed in tasks ranging from reception to landscaping to online billing.

At I.D. Web Digital, Mason Laskey refined his website design skills. He learned how to create review pages, built marketing process checklists, create website user reports, and troubleshoot technical issues. By day five, Laskey said he "really started to get the hang of being able to navigate websites and know what he is doing when it comes to making little changes and edits."

Progress, Not Partisanship

Rep. Kyle Bailey

I am a registered Democrat. However, I have previously registered as an independent and a Republican to vote in the primary for the candidate who was the best person for the job. My work in the Legislature this session has been equally pragmatic.

At the beginning of the legislative session, I introduced LD 148 to create ongoing absentee voting in Maine. My work on this issue began in 2019 when a similar bill, introduced by former Senator Linda Sanborn, ultimately stalled due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Later in the session, I transferred sponsorship of LD 148 to Speaker Ryan Fecteau, D-Biddeford, who has been a long-time champion for this election modernization.

Following a widely attended public hearing, the bill received bipartisan support in the House of Representatives. While this bill did not address every need, we made it easier for senior citizens and disabled Mainers to vote from home on an ongoing basis without the need to request multiple ballots. This measure will go into effect in time for the 2024 elections.

Having been an advocate of open primaries since 2017, I was proud to co-sponsor legislation to allow unenrolled voters to participate in primaries. LD 231, introduced by Sen. Chloe Maxmin, D- Nobleboro, passed by wide bipartisan majorities in both the House and the Senate.

For me, this issue is about basic fairness. Primaries are taxpayer funded elections in which over half of legislative races are effectively decided. Large portions of the electorate, particularly young people and veterans, should not be denied the right to participate in these first-round elections.

Among the other pieces of legislation that I worked on this session, I am proud to report that the following bills were passed by the Legislature with bipartisan support:

LD 857, a bill to create a municipal grant program to support sustainable economic development projects, was passed with unanimous support in both chambers and is now law. The bill is sitting on the Appropriations table awaiting funding using the federal COVID-19 relief dollars.

LD 1073, a bill to study changes that might be made to legislative structures and processes to improve the operations of the Legislature and, in turn, generate better outcomes for the Maine people, was passed with unanimous bipartisan support in both chambers and is sitting on the Appropriations table awaiting funding.

LD 1364, a bill to study whether it would be feasible and desirable for the state to provide incentives for developers, builders and home buyers to install residential fire sprinklers, was passed with unanimous bipartisan support in both chambers and is now law.

LD 1497, a bill to strengthen the RealizeMaine program at Maine Development Foundation and create a youth task force to inform state-level workforce and economic development planning conversations, was passed with unanimous bipartisan support in both chambers and is awaiting funding.

In addition to these successes, LD 446, my bill to research and recommend solutions for supporting regional and local planning, was passed by Democratic majorities in both chambers.

In addition to these successes and good work to combat the pandemic, there have also been setbacks with vetoes from the governor on issues ranging from criminal justice reform to tribal sovereignty. The governor's veto of LD 1708 will deny Maine voters the opportunity to weigh in on the merits of a public power utility for Maine. I urge supporters of Pine Tree Power to gather the signatures necessary to place this question on the November 2022 ballot so voters can have their say on this important issue.

I welcome the opportunity to hear from you on these and other issues that matter to you. Please contact me with any concerns or questions.

Rep. Kyle Bailey, D-Gorham, is serving his first term in the Maine House of Representatives. He serves on the Innovation, Development, Economic Advancement and Business Committee. Dear Editor,

My name is Nathan Chase, and I am 17, going into my senior year of high school in Gorham.

I am in Gorham's Boy Scout Troop and am nearing the end of my Scouting journey. I'm in the final steps of completing Eagle Scout.

For my Eagle project, I will be renewing the trail at the end of Joseph Drive which leads to the Gorham Cross Town Trail. As of now the trail is not maintained at all, and the current boardwalk is all rotted.

I will be taking out the old boardwalk and putting in a new one, as well as putting in multiple other boardwalks throughout the rest of the trail because it's quite swampy in some parts. I will also be cleaning up the trail, cutting the falling trees, picking up the trash, and raking.

At the end of my project this old trail will be looking pristine. When all is said and done I think this is going to be a great project for the community.

If you are in a position to donate to this project that will benefit all of us, please go to this website: <https://gofund.me/13da8c4a>

Thank you,
Nathan Chase

Healing Arts Gallery

Chris Crawford, Staff Writer

Healing Arts Gallery will be celebrating its grand opening on Saturday, July 24 from 10:00 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. at 31 Main Street. Owner, artist, and caring healer, Ramona Allen believes in the restorative powers of art. She believes that color, light and pleasing composition can help bring joy to the viewer.

Allen envisions her gallery as a quiet place, a respite where people can take time to pause and reflect while viewing beautiful art. The gallery will be hosting walk-in hours throughout the summer. Follow Facebook page Ramona Allen Healing Arts for updates.

Allen has had some formal training in photography and drawing which has helped her develop an eye for composition and color, but she readily admits that she is mostly self-taught. She added, "I've been painting pictures in my mind's eye forever."

When her Reflexology practice in Gorham shut down at the beginning of Covid, Allen, like many others during the crisis, had plenty of time for some serious soul searching. She decided to view Covid as an opportunity to do something new and bold.

As a natural healer, she is a firm believer in the power of Art to promote well-being and health. "I realized that I always wanted to be an artist and to paint beautiful things that might bring joy to others." She describes her art as having an eclectic sense of style and color.

Allen's artwork and her personal journey were recently featured on a WGME TV 8 segment of Made in Maine with Steve Minich. The gallery will also be part of an upcoming episode of Kristan Vermulean's podcast called Makers of Maine, which will air on July 22 (www.makersofme.com). This podcast is in the process of morphing to a national platform called, Makers of the U.S.

Three pieces of Allen's art will also be part of a multimedia digital art gallery called M.A.D.S. based in Milan, Italy. The show is called Paraiso - What is your Paradise and begins on July 23. The work can be viewed at <https://www.madsgallery.art> under Events.

As an entrepreneur, Allen believes in the philosophy of "growing slow and strong." When asked about her plans for the future of the gallery, she said that she would eventually like to broaden its scope to include original prints, note cards, scarves and bags.

A member of the Gorham Business Exchange, Allen has been a business owner in Gorham since 2018 when she first opened her reflexology practice. She consciously chose Gorham for her business because she felt a great sense of community and support here.

Allen has studied both psychology and health and wellness coaching, receiving her B.S. in Psychology from Liberty University in 2019.

Her private practice has grown and is now called RAHA Integrative Health and is located in another suite at 31 Main Street. Services are expanding to include several other providers of Massage Therapy, Bio-Magnetic Pairing, and Life Coaching. Allen will continue to be involved in a managerial role at the practice.

"Marketplace, for example, is an opportunity for businesses to interact directly with the community," he added.

The GBE will continue to offer scholarships and will be announcing the 2021 Business Person of the Year in late August or early September.

Board members have become more of a working group. According to Phillips one person will head up the work for each event. The annual Golf Scramble was held in June, and the Cornhole Tournament will be held in October. These fund-raising events support the scholarship program.

Marketplace, which prior to the pandemic drew between one and two thousand people each year to the USM Gymnasium, will return in March 2022.

Waterline Construction Detours on Route 202

Courtesy of Gorham Town Manager

Starting Monday July 19th, Gorham Sand and Gravel began construction on a water line replacement project for the Portland Water District.

Construction will occur from 7:00 a.m. until 7:00 p.m. Monday through Friday for approximately two months. Motorists should expect delays during this time.

Please note the following detours that will be in effect during the anticipated project duration:

Westbound motorists on Route 202 will be detoured westbound on Route 25/State Street to the Bernard P. Rines Bypass and back to Route 202.

Eastbound motorists will be able to continue along Narragansett Street/Route 202 through the construction zone.

Local residential traffic will be required to seek alternate routes as needed.

After 7:00 PM on weekdays, Narragansett Street will be opened to two-way traffic.

July is National Cell Phone Courtesy Month

July is National Cell Phone Courtesy Month, a time for us to consider our cellular habits and to practice courtesy and safety.

Out of sight: Whether you are attending a business meeting, out on a date or in a casual setting with friends, tuck away your phone. Keeping it visible sends the clear message that your date, family, and friends are not your number-one priority.

Exceptions: There are exceptions to every rule: A) Doctors, nurses, first responders, and health providers B) Those expecting emergency calls C) Those who have an infant with a babysitter or a person with a caregiver D) Those momentarily sharing photos with others E) Those researching an important request, such as directions.

Excuse me: If accepting an emergency call, excuse yourself as quietly and calmly as possible from the gathering with an apology.

Set boundaries: You set the tone of your communications with others. Just because you receive a call or message does not mean you have to respond immediately.

Consider content carefully: Pause first - once a text, tweet or post is sent, it's live.

Avoid driving & talking: Smartphone use while driving is banned in many places. If you must use the phone, drive to a safe area away from traffic.

Be on the Lookout for Beech Leaf Disease

Maine Forest Service

Beech leaf disease has been found in Maine's forests and has been added to the Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry's invasive species list. Symptoms of the disease were found in Lincolnville, Belfast, Rockport, Searsmont, and Hope.

The Maine Forest Service (MFS) is asking for the public's help in identifying additional areas impacted by beech leaf disease. If you suspect you have found affected leaves, please submit photos using the MFS online tree ailment form, email foresthealty@maine.gov, or call (207) 287-2431.

Photos should include a clear shot view of the underside of an affected leaf or leaves. Please report concerns even if photos can not be provided.

Symptoms include: dark bands between the veins of leaves curled, deformed, or shriveled leaves, tree develops a thin canopy of leaves.

Chlorine Tablet Shortage

Chris Crawford, Staff Writer

Swimming pool owners may be in for a shock this summer. Trichlor (chlorine) tablets, necessary to sanitize backyard pools, are going to be harder to get. Prices have skyrocketed, as well.

The scarcity is the result of a perfect storm of events. Homeowners installed more backyard pools in response to being stuck at home during Covid-19. In fact, there was almost a 23% increase over the previous year, and pool installations are expected to rise again in 2021.

Secondly, the Bio-Lab fire at the plant in Louisiana last year has left a big hole in the supply chain. About 70% of the tablets used in the U.S. were manufactured there. Two other manufacturers make chlorine tablets, but according to experts, they would both need to increase their production by about 50% in order to fill the gap, and that will most likely not happen in time.

Pool owners are being asked to buy only what they need for this season. Panic buying will only make matters worse by driving up prices even higher. Larger, public pools generally use a different form of chlorine for sanitizing, and should be quite safe for swimmers.

News from Presumpscot Regional Land Trust

Chris Crawford, Staff Writer

The Presumpscot Regional Land Trust (PRLT) is pleased to announce that Steep Falls Preserve is now a reality, thanks to the generous gift of land from the Anderson Family and the donations from 70 individuals and families in the region. Twenty acres adjacent to the 300 acre Steep Fall Wildlife area and the Mountain Division Trail are now protected forever.

The Land Trust has about $30,000 left to raise and during July, Gorham Savings Bank has generously agreed to match donations up to $500 until the $10,000 challenge amount has been reached.

Staff and volunteers will begin wildlife enhancement projects this summer, including a trailhead and a family-friendly loop trail. If you would like to volunteer please fill out a volunteer form found under "Get Involved" at www.prlt.org or contact Stewardship and Outreach Manager, Toby Jacobs at toby@prlt.org. The official ribbon cutting opening ceremony will be scheduled for the fall.

PRLT has begun a new fundraising project for the Lowell Preserve in Windham. This is considered a significant project as it is one of only a few remaining undeveloped parcels of over 300 acres left in the area. The land is owned by the Town of Windham, but once a conservation easement is in place, Lowell Preserve will be jointly managed by the Land Trust and the town of Windham.

The Land Trust has about $30,000 left to raise and during July, Gorham Savings Bank has generously agreed to match donations up to $500 until the $10,000 challenge amount has been reached. To donate visit www.prlt.org and click on "Donate" and then "Lowell Preserve".

Since You Asked...

Dear Since You Asked,

My hubby insists on treating people to dinner, repeatedly. I think it's sort of show-off, paying more than our fair share, continually with the same folks. We have "discussions" about this. Is it a nice, kind gesture, or can it be "too much?"

Signed,
Too Much

Dear Too Much,

Oh, do I love a good question where everybody is right. So good for a marriage. So good for the planet. So good for learning from another's point of view. The question is: are you and The Hubs ready for a grand experiment in looking at each other's perspectives and dropping your own?

I may be dating myself here, but way back in the day, there was a thing in high school called Speech and Debate class. Students were required to prepare thoughtful perspectives on both sides of an issue, and they didn't know which side they would be called on to defend. It was weird, and pretty wonderful for the shy, awkward kid as well as the extrovert. Both sides are right! Two horns of the dilemma! Convince yourself and convince others! May the best convincer win!

But back to your question. How would the two of you honor both (very excellent) instincts about treating people you love to dinner without depriving them of the same joy? Some would take turns. Some would go Dutch. Some would spontaneously (but not always) lead with joy and pay the entire bill but acknowledge that they just want to do that "this time." It takes planning, care, and conversation to pull this off. All signs of a successful marriage.

May the Generosity Force be with you.

SUMMER LAUGHS

What did the ocean say to the beach?

Nothing, it just waved

Why do seagulls fly over the ocean?

Because if they flew over the bay, we'd call them "bagels."

What lies at the bottom of the ocean and twitches?

Why did the dolphin cross the beach?

To get to the other tide!

Why don't oysters share their pearls?

Because they're shellfish!

Andrew Farr Comes Back Strong After Injury; Enjoyed Record Breaking Spring Season

Destiny Cook, Sports Editor

Andrew Farr recently finished his junior year at GHS. He has been running competitively for about eight years, beginning in 2014 through the Gorham Youth Summer Track program.

His coach, Jason Tanguay said, "If you follow Gorham Track and Field, then you most likely know the name 'Andrew Farr.' In fact, many of us have followed Andrew's success on the track since he was in middle school," he said.

What some may not have realized, he had yet to compete in an outdoor track and field meet until this season; his 2019 season was hampered by an injury and the 2020 season shut down by COVID-19.

Farr has had much success in his track career; in the Spring of 2019, "I had qualified to compete in the 400m and 60m sprints at the Indoor New Balance Nationals. After a successful regular season, breaking the freshman 55m and 300m state records and being named 'Most Valuable Male Junior Division Athlete' in Maine, I was excited to see how I continued to progress throughout the post-season," he shared. Farr was making a name for himself doing something that he loved, sprinting.

During a practice in the week leading up to Nationals, Farr said he noticed his hamstrings felt a little tight. This is nothing unusual for a sprinter so he stretched and rolled a little more than usual until he was able to convince himself that they felt "good enough." However, about halfway through the first repetition, he said his left hamstring pain went from tolerable to excru-

"At the time, I didn't know the difference between tightness and injury, so I tried to push through; my heart said, 'go faster,' but my decelerating legs suggested otherwise. I ended a lot more than just that workout as soon as I crossed the line," he remembered.

"After that practice, I remember my coach telling me "you could lose a lot more than you could gain in these next couple of days if you aren't careful," and those words lay ingrained in my mind," Farr said. "If I had gone into practice with that mentality, I might have been saved from pulling my hamstring and placing last at Nationals later that week," he added.

What happened, Farr went on to explain, was a grueling eleven months of physical therapy, grief and depression that followed his injury.

When Farr pulled his hamstring again, it was at a meet in Gorham. "I can vividly remember athletes from other towns immediately embracing and comforting me, specifically Thornton Academy sprinters Isaac Ofielu and Joshua Sewell, as well as many others," he shared.

Farr is not shy when talking about his difficulties with his injuries and his recovery. "Three months of painstaking doubt, of uncertainty, of going through the daily motions, of doing everything in my power to heal as quickly as I could. However, for the longest time, it felt as if I were working in complete darkness, reaching for a goal that I didn't know would ever be reached: full recovery," he shared.

Fast forward to the 2021 season;

Thornton Academy sprinters Isaac Ofielu and Joshua Sewell comfort Andrew Farr after he re-pulled his hamstring in May of 2019.

after three regular season meets, Farr broke the 100m (11.02), 200m (22.42), and 400m (49.41) Gorham High School boys outdoor track and field records and entered the state meet ranked number one in the state in all three events.

At the state meet, he won the 400m and was runner-up in the 100m and 200m. Farr also ran the 400m leg on the distance medley relay team that broke the school record (along with Reed Henderson, Josh Lehmann, and Calvin Cummings).

"There was no New England meet this year, but I still wanted to push

Spring Sports Wraps Up 2021 Season

Destiny Cook, Sports Editor

BASEBALL: Assistant Coach Dan Morin

The Rams started the season winning 17-0 vs. Westbrook going 3-0 before losing at Scarborough. The boys went on to win 4 of their next 6 games and were 7-3, but unfortunately hit some end of season speed bumps to finish 7-7.

The highlight of 2021 came when hosting Noble to start the playoffs. Junior Kyle Skolfield pitched a no-hitter leading Gorham to a 1-0 win. Coach Morin said heartbreak ended the season after a controversial, but hard-fought 3-2 loss vs top-ranked Thornton Academy.

"Southern Maine had arguably the most talented crop of high school pitchers in memory. Included in that group were Rams juniors Colin McDonald (1st Team All-Conference) and Kyle Skolfield (2nd Team All-Conference)," Morin shared.

McDonald started 7 games and was 3-0, while striking out 53 batters in 40 innings pitched. He finished with a 1.75 ERA.

Skolfield started 5 games on the mound but had a hard luck 2-win, 2-loss record despite giving up only 13 hits and 8 total runs (4 earned/.894 ERA) in over 31 innings and striking out 43 hitters.

Joining McDonald and Skolfield as all conference, were 1st Team All-Conference Rams, junior outfielder Caleb Hendrix, and sophomore second-baseman Quinn Dillon. Left fielder Cody Sellick (junior), was named Honorable Mention All-Conference.

"Gorham looks to even bigger and better things for 2022 as they lose one starter to graduation (Bode Meader). The Rams coaching staff wishes only the best to Bode, and other 2021 graduates, Nick Williams and Ian Obrey, for their commitment and competitiveness on the diamond," Morin said.

GIRLS OUTDOOR TRACK & FIELD: Coach John Caterina

Coach John Caterina said the Gorham Girls had an outstanding season. The girls team had 35 members with 12 seniors. They finished the regular season undefeated at 7-0 and scored first in a "virtual" version of the SMAA championship meet.

The girls topped off their tremendous season with a strong 2nd place finish (out of 23 teams) in the Class A State Championship meet on June 5th. Juniors Emma Green and Alyvia Caruso won individual state championships in the high jump and 100 m Hurdles respectively. The 4 X 100 Relay Team of Maddie Michaud, Nevaeh Moore, Emma Green and Sydney Connolly defended their 2019 first place finish with a new school record time.

Other scorers included Sydney Connolly in the 100 and 200; Alyvia Caruso in the 300 Hurdles and Long Jump; Olivia Michaud in the Javelin; Carolyn Bishop in the 1600 Racewalk; Elisabeth Loranger in the 400 and the 4 X 800 Relay team of Elisabeth Loranger, Sydney Fox, Rita Cummings and Rachel Cummings.

BOYS OUTDOOR TRACK & FIELD: Coach Jason Tanguay

The boys team had 30 members with 10 seniors. They finished the regular season with a record of 4 wins and 3 losses.

They entered the postseason hungry and had a 5th place finish (out of 23 teams) in the Class A State Championship meet. Individual state champions were senior Ryan Gendron, in the high jump; junior Andrew Farr, in the 400, breaking the school record again, along with other school records that day in the 100 and 200; and sophomore, Lucien Beardsley, in the racewalk.

Other scorers included Andrew Farr in the 100 and 200; Ryan Gendron in the long jump; 4x400 relay team of Tommy Sallinen, Elijah Wyatt, Josh Lehmann and Andrew Farr.

BOYS TENNIS: Coach Aaron Landry

Boys Tennis entered the playoffs as the 12 seed - by far the best 12 seed ever in class A tennis according to Coach Aaron Landry.

"We gained a lot of experience at singles, and though the record was tough, sophomore Patrick Cyr, junior Will Boylen, and sophomore Kevin Luo have a bright future in the next few years," Landry said.

The team was anchored by Seniors Griffin Loranger and Evan Koenig at 1 doubles and Shey Ajayi and Luke Adams at 2 doubles. The doubles teams had a combined record of 22 wins and 4 losses in their 13 matches.

In the SMAA doubles tournament Loranger and Koenig received a bye as the overall 2 seed, unfortunately they ran up against a tough and fully warmed up Westbrook team. They and Luke were not seeded but came to play. They won 3 matches and lost to the eventual tournament winners, Kennebunk #1, 8-6 in the quarter-finals.

BOYS LACROSSE: Coach Clayton Jones

"What a great feeling to be out there with the athletes and able to pursue our shared passion," Coach Clayton Jones said after getting back on the field with his athletes.

Jones said this group did a great job of adapting to whatever circumstances were thrown their way. "Picking up the pieces from a two-year layoff, we started practices in the parking lot - never ideal - but just happy to be outside and together," he said.

After a great first week, and building momentum, practices shut down for a week due to Covid restrictions at the high school. Coach Jones said this is normally a crucial time when varsity players can really prepare together and scrimmage one or two other teams.

"Yet, in the spirit of our motto for the season - 'adapt and overcome,' we started back up again from scratch the following week, with only days until our first game," he went on to say.

The season opener vs. Westbrook

GHS Senior Internship Experience is a Success

Kylie Mathieson investigated her interest in speech pathology by observing therapy sessions, evaluations, and assisting with curriculum development at The Maine Chatterbox. Mathieson marveled at how the “therapist was able to do it almost entirely through play” and at “the difference in speech between the older kids and the younger kids.”

As an aspiring aeronautical engineer, Tess Libby took her internship in a different direction, using it as an opportunity to conduct an extraterrestrial soil experiment by attempting to grow plants in Mars-like soil. Libby said that she hopes to “expand her understanding of how humans might be able to terraform a planet’s atmosphere using a simulation of the planet’s soil medium.”

In partnership with Maine Foodscapes, MacKenna Homa developed a survey intended to gain insights to create a sustainable composting program for local farmers, homeowners, and renters. Homa plans to pursue environmental engineering in college so she can “create sustainable solutions for our future.”

“The internship program is designed to be the culmination of participating seniors’ academic experiences at Gorham High School, highlighting the skills of self-direction they have learned,” said Brian Jandreau, GHS principal.

“It is a genuine opportunity for seniors to merge their various interests and passions with their academic lives at school. Similarly, it is a vehicle for seniors to demonstrate independence and complexity of thought as they build bridges from their high school careers to their future academic, professional, or vocational lives.”

Chlorine Tablet Shortage

Pool owners can cut down on the need for chlorine by:

- Showering before swimming rinses off makeup, soap, sunscreen and other contaminants.
- Scooping out debris and vacuum regularly.
- Using an algacide.
- Not wearing street clothes in the pool.
- Rinsing swimsuits, and avoiding detergent.
- Keeping pets out of the pool – one dog in your pool equals 50 people.
- Covering your pool when not using it to protect the chlorine from UV evaporation.

Thankfully, there are some other sanitizing options for maintaining a healthy pool: Bromine, Saltwater, Ozone, Copper and Silver or Catalytic Oxidation, to name a few. And there may be other products on the market, such as Instant Frog, that claims to reduce chlorine use for in-ground pools up to 50% while keeping the pool clean by using minerals that work in combination with chlorine to kill bacteria, condition water for softness, and buffer the pH.

While bleach can be used as an alternative, it is about half the strength of chlorine. Pool owners are urged to avoid using “splashless” bleach as it contains very little chlorine and also contains several dangerous additives.

If you are looking for an alternative to standard chlorine tablets, contacting a reputable pool company can help you explore other options.

myself on a bigger stage after states. I finished my season by competing at the East Coast Track and Field Championships in New Jersey where I won the 400m by .02 seconds and finished 3rd in the 100m and 200m,” Farr said.

The 400m record stands out because Farr had never really thought of himself as a 400 runner before this season, saying it’s by far the toughest race he’s run. Two years ago, Farr found it hard to imagine he would be fully recovered, let alone breaking records and ranked first in the state.

Coach Tanguay has nothing but pride when speaking of Andrew. “He has persevered through all of these obstacles and found himself to be in a place where he better understands his body and also better appreciates and embraces the process needed to be successful,” Tanguay said.

There may be many more records and state titles are on the horizon for Andrew.

Spring Sports Wrap-Up

was postponed due to their own Covid shut down, so they began the season with a solid win over an improved Bonny Eagle squad, 12-9. The Rams faced their first real test against Portland.

“We met that challenge with a resounding 17-6 win, buoyed by the return of Jacob Graham from injury and Beck Carrier from a short stint in baseball. We faced Portland again in a rematch at home. They proved to be tougher the second time around, but our defense clamped down for a 10-4 victory,” Coach Jones said.

The boys went into the last game of their season at 11-0, and looking for the perfect regular season, the Rams travelled to Brunswick to meet another top team from Class B; this thriller saw the Rams come out on the losing end by one 14-13.

Although not a perfect season, the Rams were eager for the tournament. Hosting Bonny Eagle in the first round, the Rams came through with a strong performance, winning 9-6. They advanced to the second round where they lost 18-2 to the eventual State Champions, Cape Elizabeth.

Gorham was led by Senior Captain Ben Tukey, who led the team in scoring with 52 goals and 34 assists for 86 points. Tukey also scooped up 57 ground balls, which is a testament to his work ethic. “A remarkable season for the senior who is moving on to play at Castleton State next year,” Coach Jones said proudly.

Jones shared that also leading the charge from the attack was junior Hunter Pelletier, who tallied 67 points, and from the midfield Ayden Lindsay who tallied 43 points. Ian Connors jumped in the varsity net for his first start ever and made great strides throughout the season, earning honorable mention all-conference in the end. The Rams also saw great leadership from senior Captain Josh Labrie and senior face-off specialist and all-around defender Beck Carrier.

Tukey, Pelletier, Lindsay, Carrier and defender Liam Moss were named All-Conference, while Goalie Connors and midfielder Brady Sawyer were named Honorable Mention. Carrier and Labrie were named All-Academic.

Jones said, “Off the field, this crew came out en masse (over 35) to help with the Gorham Clean Up on a cold rainy day in April, and came out to support their middle school proteges as well. Ben Tukey garnered the ‘Spirit of the Game’ Award, Josh Labrie the Integrity Award, and Beck Carrier the Coaches’ Award.”

With a strong core of players returning next year, the Rams look to make a deeper run into the tournament in 2022. “Special thanks to all our parents, athletics and grounds staff, and the officials for the hard work everyone put in to be ready for the season, and the flexibility necessary to make it all happen,” Coach Jones said.

A tractor trailer truck struck a wire and pulled several telephone poles down on Jonathan Road.

School St. caller wanted to report that someone had possibly taken her packages but she wasn't sure. She was advised to check with the Post Office to see if anything had been delivered.

Officer was informed of a female mallard duck by a brick wall at Gorham Middle School. Caller reported the ducks' breathing appeared labored. Wildlife officer advised this is a protected bird and asked that it not be disturbed as it was probably nesting and would leave the area in 27 days. Officer was putting out cones with keep out signs but then saw the duck had left.

School St. caller had captured a squirrel. She was told to release it back into the wild as the Police Department would not be transporting it anywhere.

Files Rd. caller reported a man came to her house and wanted money and compensation saying the caller had cut him off in Buxton five months earlier. Man said he had a bad back, his truck was totaled and he now needed money. Caller had no idea who he was or how he got her information. She wanted it on record that the guy had shown up five months later.

Caller stated a male came into the bank not wearing a mask. He was upset as he had locked his keys in his vehicle. He broke a window to the vehicle and departed before officers arrived.
